CS 130
Homework #2

Jessica Jang

Corrections that had to be made?
→ There were errors due to the images not being labeled, so I had to add alt tags with descriptions for each image. I also had to add aria-label attributes to the buttons at the very bottom of the page. Additionally, the html's language was not defined, so I had to specify the language as English so that screen readers can read the page accurately.

Website usable without CSS?
→ It would theoretically be usable, since it is possible to navigate through the page with just the tab button, and the WAVE report does not indicate any errors. However, it would be very inconvenient to actually use the website because the layout is not intuitive at all.

Tabbable?
→ Yes!

Link to homepage: https://jessicajang2024.github.io/cs130-coursework/

Link to github repository: https://github.com/jessicajang2024/cs130-coursework.git